Professional Development and New Courses

Free Therapy through Better Help

For the past 20+ years Grad Resources has partnered with The National Association of Graduate and Professional Students (NAGPS) in promoting the National Grad Crisis-Line (877-GRAD-HLP). Thousands of lives have been saved and thousands more found a voice of support at their point of despair. gradresources.org/crisis/
But what if you have issues that require more ongoing assistance? What if you have some areas of growth that you want to pursue but need some counseling to move you forward?
Grad Resources has partnered with BetterHelp to provide you with access to licensed, professional online therapy at no cost. What is BetterHelp? BetterHelp is the world's largest online therapy platform providing:
-       Over 25,000 licensed and vetted therapists to choose from based on your personal needs and preferences
-       Four ways to talk with your therapist: video conferencing, phone, live chat, texting

-      The Ability to speak with your therapist when and where you want to

Scholarships

Graduate Student Professional Development Assistance Award

An award available to current UC Davis graduate students who completed an unpaid internship in support of their career development goals. Award is $500 for an internship during the academic year and $1,000 for a summer internship. Remote internships qualify.
Eligibility
- Internship was a supervised work-learn experience in a professional environment outside the classroom in support of a graduate student's career goals. (See UC Davis internship policies for details).
- Internship took place while the applicant was a current UC Davis Master's, PhD, or EdD student. Incoming graduate students who did internships before they began coursework at UC Davis are not eligible to apply.
- Applicants must be current Master's, PhD, or EdD student when they receive the award. Graduate students who have already graduated are not eligible to apply.
- Students enrolled in other professional degree programs (e.g. MBA, DVM, MD) are not eligible.
- Internship was unpaid, not required part of the applicant's graduate program (major field, minor field, or designated emphasis), and not used primarily to conduct dissertation or thesis research.
- Priority for the award will be given to graduate students exploring diverse career paths beyond academia.
