

THE UC DAVIS CREATIVE WRITING
PROGRAM PRESENTS

FIG & AXLE

A GRADUATE STUDENT READING SERIES

VOORHIES
COURTYARD

WEDS
NOV 10
4:30 PM

FEATURING
TWO GRADUATE STUDENT
WRITERS &
FOLLOWED
BY AN OPEN MIC*

Jenavieve Hatch is in her second year of the UC Davis Creative Writing MFA program working in nonfiction and poetry. Her work has appeared in BUST, Playboy, and HuffPost, where she covered women and gender, climate change and disaster, and electoral politics before starting her MFA.

Augusta Funk is a poet and writer originally from the Midwest. She has received fellowships from the Bread Loaf Environmental Writers' Conference and Vermont Studio Center, and her work has appeared in numerous publications. She is a first-year PhD student in English at UC Davis with interests in speculative media, disability studies, and eco-poetics.

*THREE MINUTES PER PERSON AT THE OPEN MIC.
SIGN-UPS AT THE EVENT—ALL ARE WELCOME!