

UC Davis Comprehensive Cancer Center Grand Rounds

“Working Together to End Cancer as We Know It”

Dr. Sharpless will reflect on five decades of progress since passage of the National Cancer Act of 1971 and describe how NCI and the broader cancer research community can deliver on President Biden’s goal to end cancer as we know it.

Hosted by:

- Primo “Lucky” Lara, MD, Director, University of California Davis Comprehensive Cancer Center

Register at

<https://health.ucdavis.edu/cancer/research/education-training/grand-rounds.html>

Register today for the new monthly series that brings nationally and internationally recognized luminaries from all disciplines of cancer research to discuss their vision of how their respective fields might unfold in the future and share their pathway to a fulfilling career in cancer research.

November

30

12:00 – 1:00 p.m.
(virtual)

Ned Sharpless, MD

Director
National Cancer Institute