

MST 20B

The Medieval Studies program is seeking a Teaching Assistant for MST 20B, offered in Spring Quarter of 2022. This is a 50% position.

This course introduces students to the culture of the late medieval time period through a global perspective. We will study the social and political structure, prominent philosophies, and arts of medieval societies from six distinct geographical regions: the Middle East, Europe, East Asia, South Asia, South West Africa, and America.

Qualified applicants will:

- Be available to attend weekly lectures and conduct weekly office hours.
- Must have attended the CEE TA orientation (offered each September).
- Must be eligible to hold an academic appointment.
- Must complete Sexual Harassment Prevention Training line before beginning position.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience as a teacher, TA, or Grader/Reader
- Graduate work in a related field.

Course Description

MST 020B—The Culture of the High Middle Ages (4)

Lecture—3 hour(s); Discussion—1 hour(s). Great transformations that created the modern world: Constitutional Government, the Hundred Years War, the Black Death, and the Peasants Revolts, the Renaissance, Reformation and Counter-Reformation, and the Baroque. GE credit: AH, WC, WE. Effective: 2018 Spring Quarter.

Please contact Prof. Yuming He (ymhe@ucdavis.edu) with any questions regarding this position.