Padlet Announcement

Looking for club announcements, professional opportunities, and more? The College of Engineering and its departments upload information related to these topics and more on a website called Padlet. Padlet is an online bulletin board that gets updated in real-time.

*IMPORTANT: A lot of departments are migrating information that would typically be sent in an email listserv to Padlet. Check your respective major website to access opportunities specific to your major.****

For the general COE, there are 2 separate Padlet boards: one for engineering clubs and announcements, and another for academic information.

To find where to access the Padlet for engineering clubs and announcements, go to <https://engineering.ucdavis.edu/undergraduates/student-life> and click on the “Club Announcements” button on the right. To find the Padlet for academic information, go to <https://engineering.ucdavis.edu/undergraduates/academic-advising> and click on the “Deadlines and Announcements” button on the right.

Check Padlet regularly on the COE website as well as your major website for new postings!
