The future of education is Wize, will you be a part of it?

Wize (wizedemy.com) is hiring graduate students in part-time teaching and tutoring positions that are built to provide a competitive advantage in today's professional landscape, all while completing academic priorities.

Wize is on a mission to make university learning more personalized and collaborative, and we are hiring graduate students in two positions to join us on this journey: Wize Prof and Wize Certified Tutor.

1. Wize Profs develop comprehensive online tutoring packages aimed at preparing undergraduate students for their exams (what we call, "Exam Prep Courses").
2. Wize Certified Tutors connect with students one-on-one through our interactive whiteboard to teach in their subject of expertise.

Both positions give graduate students the tools to get ahead in 2020:

Flexibility to work when you want, around your existing academic commitments

Opportunity for Growth with a rapidly growing company that has hired 60+ educators this year alone

Competitive Compensation with the opportunity to make $50-$100/hour

Career Development in ed-tech, one of the most dynamic industries in North America

Convenience to tutor from anywhere - a laptop and webcam is all you need
